WORK OF RESCUE FROM STRANDED SHIP UNDER WAY

Small Boats Used To Save 263 Passengers And Crew Aboard

LINER STRANDED ON SUNKEN REEF

Oil Poured On Troubled Waters As Big Ships
Can't Approach

Plymouth, Mass., March 10.—
Work of rescuing the 263 passengers and crew from the stricken liner Robert E. Lee off Manomet Point was under way today.

In a coast guard power launch ten passengers were carried to the side of the coast guard cutter Tus-corora.

A few minutes later another power life boat rolled and pitched from the side of the stranded ship carrying ten more persons to the coast guard cutter.

When a sufficient number are aboard the Tuscorora they will be conveyed by that craft to Plymouth.

The start of the rescue work was followed by watchers on shore through glasses.

In the town here near historic Plymouth Rock, landing place of the Pilgrims, eight motor busses awaited the arrival of those who have spent a memorable night aboard the Robert E. Lee.

Plymouth, Mass., March 10.—Between 20 and 30 of the 150 passengers aboard the stranded liner Robert E. Lee were taken off in a coastguard boat this forenoon.

The transfer from the deck of the liner as she lay a mile and a half off the rocks off Manomet was observed by watchers along the shore with glasses.

Others will be rescued in this manner, the idea of taking them aboard the steamship George Washington or of landing them by means of breeches buoy having been abandoned because of the strong northwest wind and the choppy sea.

Pour Oil on Waters

The George Washington had poured oil on the troubled waters about the stricken Robert E. Lee and this proved a big aid in bringing the coastguard boats alongside.

Five motor busses were rushed over the snow-clogged roads from Bos-

ANTI-LAME DUCK BILL DEFEATED

Given Unanimous Senate Vote, Bill Fails In House By 35

Washington, March 10.—With the Norris-White proposed constitutional amendment to end "lame duck" sessions of congress killed because it could not command a two-thirds vote in the house, backers of the resolution today declared that the fight would be renewed in the next session of congress.

After passing the senate almost unanimously, the measure got 209 votes in the house to 157 against it, or 35 votes shy of the two-thirds necessary to submit a constitutional amendment to state legislatures.

The vote climaxed a fight which has been waged since 1923 to amend the constitution to abolish the short session of congress in even numbered years, in which members who have been defeated at the polls still serve.

To abolish this session it was necessary to change the date of presidential inauguration. The Norris-White measure before the house sent congress into session on Jan. 1, and made the date of presidential inauguration on Jan. 24.

REFUSE LOWER FREIGHT RATES IN COAL CASE

As result Lake Cargo Coal Case May Be Taken to Federal Court

Washington, March 10.—Whether the lake cargo coal case will be thrown into a federal court for remedial action, following the refusal of the interstate commerce commission to permit railroads serving southern mines shipping coal to Lake Erie ports for transshipment to the northwest, to reduce freight rates 20 cents per ton, will be determined by the southern operators within the next 10 days.

As a preliminary step to the proposed litigation the commission today certified to the southern operators the entire record in the case, which was an attempt on the part of the principal southern coal carrying roads to meet the 20 cent cut in freight rates on lake cargo coal given to Ohio and Pennsylvania mines last summer.

The southern operators, following a series of conferences with representatives of the railroads handling their lake cargo shipments, have practically determined to test the commission's latest decision in the courts, but there are several phases of the case that require consideration before legal action is begun.

The details of the proposed litigation will be worked out by the operators' lake cargo committee, of which James D. Francis, of Huntington, W. Va., is chairman.

Gov. Howard M. Gore, of West Virginia, who took an active part in the negotiations here, pledged the cooperation of that state in any action that may be taken to overthrow the commission's decision giving Pennsylvania and Ohio mines a substantial differential over southern mines in lake cargo shipments.

About 75 of the principal operators involved in the case, together with representatives of the Chesapeake and Ohio, Norfolk and Western and Louisville and Nashville railroads, participated in the conferences here.

MINERS ROUTED BY OHIO GUARDS

Martins Ferry, March 10.—Unemployed union miners of the Florence mine of the Y. & O. Coal Co., who gathered at their headquarters near here early today, were dispersed by more than a score of U. S. deputies.
Ohio National Guardsmen and deputies of Clyde Hardesty, sheriff of Belmont county, no injuries or damage were reported.

Col. Don Caldwell, observer for Gov. Donahy in the Belmont county mine fields, Col. Wade Christy in charge of guards relief work, and Capt. Noble of the U. S. deputies, with their men sped to the mine in autos from their headquarters at St.
Clairsville, early today, when notified that the unemployed union men and sympathizers were congregat-ing.

The Florence mine has been employing about 400 non-union miners since the union men failed to report for work, April 1, 1927, upon the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement.

D. C. Van Buren.

WILLIS STRIKES BACK AT CHAIN NEWSPAPER FOE

Are Voters To Nominate Candidate Unfettered?
Senator Asks

MAKES SPEECH AT COLUMBUS TODAY

Wants to know Why Press Supports Al Smith
And Hoover

Columbus, March 10.—"The question that is presented to the Republican voters of Ohio and the country is: 'Are they to make their own nominations, free, unfettered and unafraid, or are they to permit a chain of newspapers, that have always fought Republican policies and opposed every Republican administration, including that of President Coolidge, to make the nomination (for president of the United States) for them under the threat that if such authority is not given, these newspapers will swing their influence, whatever it may be, to Gov. A.
L. Smith of New York?'"

U. S. Senator Frank B. Willis, "favorite son" candidate in Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination, made the above declaration here this afternoon while addressing Willis supporters at luncheon in the Deshler-Wallick hotel.

The luncheon was attended by Republicans from various parts of the state who are aiding Willis in his fight against Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover for Ohio delegation to Republican national convention.
These delegates will be chosen at the statewide presidential preference primaries April 24.

"As the campaign proceeds, no doubt the chain newspapers will fully explain their reasons for supporting their candidates for each of the two parties," Willis continued.
"Is it because both of these candidates are internationally-minded?
Is it to be assumed that their views are the same with reference to the League of Nations? Do these newspapers contend that their candidates entertain similar views with reference to the tariff?"

"Do they claim that the positions of their chosen appointees are similar with reference to the 18th amendment and its enforcement?"

Defends Tariff

Defending the protective tariff principle, Willis directed attention to the international congress, held at Stockholm and to the Geneva conference. He referred to a recent report of the U. S. Department of Commerce in which the purpose of the Stockholm conference was declared to be "to develop international trade, to suppress those barriers which hamper commercial exchanges, to strengthen the bonds which link the various nations together, to counteract the causes of economic conflict, and, thereby, contribute to the maintenance of peace."

"Of course, everybody is in favor of the maintenance of peace, and everybody wants to strengthen the bonds of friendship amongst the nations, but not everybody is agreed that tariff barriers should be broken down," said Willis.

Declarations of the Geneva conference, Willis stated, included: "Attempts by nations to stimulate industries artificially have resulted in losses and sacrifices to the nation; winners and losers; and the consumers who were obliged to pay more for the products of the protected industry."

"This is a clear, definite assault on the principle of protective tariffs," declared Willis. "This is notice to the world that this internationally-minded group, interested in foreign investments, propose to break down the American protective tariff system and lead ultimately to free trade. When such an assault is contemplated and acquiesced in by prominent and powerful Americans, it is well for old-fashioned Republicans, who actually believe in a protective tariff, to defend their principles and look to their leadership."

TRIED TO CROSS TRACK IN FRONT OF TRAIN TODAY

Miss Mildred Talbot, 25, Killed At Station
Early Saturday

WAS HURRYING TO TEACHERS' MEET

Misjudged Train's Speed
As She Hurried Across
To Board It

East Palestine, March 10.—Attempting to get across the tracks before the train pulled into the station, Miss Mildred Talbot, 25, teacher at Carben Hill school, west vania lines about 8 a. m. Saturday.

Miss Talbot, who was alone, had planned to attend the annual convention of the Columbiana County Teachers association today in Lis-connect for Lisbon when she heard the train approaching the station.

She ran out onto the tracks, and tried to go over to the westbound platform before the train pulled in, but she misjudged the speed of the train and was killed by the engine.

Miss Talbot, well known here, was a daughter of A. A. Talbot. She was a graduate of East Palestine grades and high school, and of Kent Normal college.

Lion Tamer In Jail, Repents Whipping Her Daughter

Kansas City, Kan., March 10.— In jail today because she could not pay a $100 fine, Mrs.
Charles Woodside, former circus lion tamer and mother of 16-year-old Lorena Jones, re-pentedly whipping her daughter with a clothes hanger.

In a filled city auditorium last night a dramatic police court trial was held. Women fainted, many tears were shed, prayers were offered and hundreds of persons on the outside clamored to get in.

Lorena, who last week failed to give her mother an account of her whereabouts when she was out late, was the complaining witness and alleged she had been punished in an unusual manner. Several witnesses testified as to the "spiritual attitude" of the daughter and Mrs. Woodside failed to defend herself.

"I will be crucified before I testify against my child," Mrs.
Woodside told Judge Fred R.
White, "I'll plead guilty." Then turning to Lorena, she sobbed:
"Lorena, dear, did you have me arrested of your own accord? Tell me. If you did, I'll plead guilty and do a year in jail." She declined to take the witness oath.

Miss Inez MacKinnon, a teacher in the school which Lorena attends, kept the girl from answering. The teacher said she wanted to aid the girl in doing the wishes of her mother that she study to be a teacher.

Mrs. Woodside was sent to jail when she failed to pay the $100 fine assessed by Judge

Mother Gives Life To Save Her Baby

Philadelphia, March 10.—A father death and a third son was injured seriously when fire swept their South Philadelphia home today.

The dead are: Lorenzo Cambria, 25, a grocer, and his two sons, Sal-vatore, 11 and Angelo, 7.
Harry, 14, third son, jumped to the ground when the flames trapped him in a rear bedroom on the sec-

A defective flue is believed to have started the blaze.

Gives Life To Save Baby

New York, March 10.—Mrs. Anna Reina gave her life early today in a vain attempt to save her six months' old baby from flames that spread from a kitchen stove in their home here.

The baby, Frank, Jr., died in the fire and Mrs. Reina succumbed in a hospital.

Neighbors attracted by the woman's screams found their efforts to aid her blocked by a locked door, which was finally broken down by a taxicab driver. The kitchen was a roaring furnace, but the chauffeur rushed in and dragged Mrs. Reina to the hallway.

When firemen subdued the flames the baby was found dead in the fire.

Greenberg, four, died today, the result of inhaling smoke and gas fumes after being trapped in the blazing basement of his home here last night.

and seven firemen fought their way through clouds of smoke and gas fumes to rescue the boy after fire, believed due to an overheated furnace, broke out in the Greenberg home.

Immediate resuscitation attempts proved futile and the lad was removed to a hospital where he expired this morning.

LET'S BEAUTIFY A BIT

With spring so near at hand, the time is ripe for the giving of a little consideration to the cleaning-up and beautification of City premises.

We are not referring to the annual spring clean-up, which has become a sort of a civic movement, wherein citizens collect old bottles and cans and other unsightly objects and place them on the curb in boxes and barrels to be hauled away.
Nor do we refer to the cleaning of the streets and alleys, which, it may be said in passing, are sorely in need of attention. The city authorities will look after such matters.

We are appealing herein to those occupying properties in our residential districts, whether they be homeowners or renters. We would have them give a little more care to the properties they occupy than many of them ordinarily receive. Our plea is that all such properties and vacant lots adjoining residential properties as well, be thoroughly cleaned and, wherever possible, beautified. It may be that a lawn needs a little attention. There may be a bare place which may be made to conform to the remainder of the lawn by the sowing of a little seed.
Possibly a lawn grade is not so slightly as it should be. If such lawn grades are not along paved streets and consequently curbed, they can be squared and made much more slightly. Again, many lawn grades along curbed streets need attention.
Some may need leveling down to the curb. Some may need a little filling.
It is so easy to make our properties attractive to the eye, if we but think so.

At trifling expense, and often at no expense at all, we may plant a vine or bit of shrubbery here and there which will add immensely to the attractiveness of our homes.
And why not a few flowers in the back yard in a measure to even up its appearance with the well-kept lawn in front? Some bloom run into money, and it is true of some shrubbery. But there is always bloom and shrubbery to meet the condition of one's purse. And offer our neighbors are glad to supply us when bounteous nature forces the thinning out of their flower beds, and the cutting out of some of their shrubbery.

We have had some experience in the past in connection with the beautification of our city. We have learned how easily the unsightly may be changed into a thing of beauty. We know by experience and by observation that "where there's a will there's a way." We wish the people of Salem generally would develop the will. We would like to see the city once again as beautiful as we have seen it in the past.

Let's try to accomplish that end the coming spring and summer.

What Others Say

TEN YEARS AFTER

This tenth anniversary year of the armistice has opened with a rather startling succession of conquests by the Grim Reaper among the actors who played star parts in the tragic drama of the World war. Within a few days of one another Asquith and Haig, in Great Britain; Lichnowsky in Germany, and Diaz in Italy, have been gathered to that bourne which knows neither the triumph of statesmanship or the glamour of the battlefield. Time, the unconquerable, takes remorseless toll among the men on whose toil or deeds the world, a bare decade ago, hung breathlessly.

There is no realm of World war activity or any theater of its operations, military or political, that has not been so bereft in the interval of peace. Imperial figures, like Mohammed, of Turkey, Francis Joseph of Austria and Nicholas, of Russia, vanished from the scene while the smoke of strife still hung like a devastating pall over Europe. Kitchener, of Khartum, was a war casualty. Lord French, first commander-in-chief of the British army in France, "went west" before Marshal Haig. M. Delcasse, Ger-man's pre-war belle not at Paris, left the embittered scene following the armistice about the time Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the fatherland's ill-starred chancellor, took his place in the ages along with his immortal

"scrap of paper," the war's most blazing indiscretion.

America's overshadowing luminary, Woodrow Wilson, broken and broken-hearted, is gone, first of the "big four" of Versailles to explore the dust. If his admirers guess aright, Wilson's alone will be the merit of having builded, at Geneva, a monument destined to circumvent the ravages of the years.

But an irony of fate, from which the superstitious may devise theories or derive consolation, it is the masterful personages of war-time Germany among whom the necrol-ogist finds the principal dearth of material. William II, the exile of Doorn, still flourishes, though no longer the monarch of all he surveys. Tirpitz, architect-in-chief of submarine "schrecklichkeit," lives amid memories that must fill him with vastly mixed emotions. Luden-dorff, the great general staff's strategic guru, survives, a sour and sullen soldier. And Field Marshal Hindenburg is president of the German republic, hale, hearty and world respected.—Washington Star

GOOD MANNERS

Great Britain, too, is seeking to promote courtesy on the "King's" highway. To cut down the great number of traffic accidents by cultivating a spirit of good-fellowship on the road, the Safety First society has organized a Road Fellowship league. The scheme is to get people to pledge themselves to behave with sense and consideration on their walks and rides abroad.

Motorists who join will receive a badge, a white triangle on a red and blue background, which is to be displayed prominently on the car. When a scared pedestrian sees this sign on a car speeding toward him, he will be assured that the driver is a good fellow. Even if the man on foot is struck by the car, he will know the driver didn't mean it.

A code of correct and courteous behavior for both motorists and pedestrians is furnished to league members to be memorized and obeyed. In the advice for walkers is the rule, "Keep cool if caught in traffic and avoid dodging." This will be a hard rule to follow when cars are rushing on both sides and foot room is rapidly disappearing.
But if league membership will help the pedestrian to keep a serene mind in heavy traffic, the Road Fellowship league will have justified its existence.—New York Times.

Tomorrow's
HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble
SUNDAY, MARCH 17.

To do a common thing uncommonly well will always bring success.—H. J. Heinz

Sunday's horoscope holds prophecy of success and notable advancement for those well qualified in the employment of others.
It promises recognition and favors for those of serious effort.
There may be some unwelcome change.

Those whose birthday it is may find it a profitable year to deal with those in authority or for those in employment to push for recognition and promotion if qualified. Some change is indicated. A child born on this day should have excellent qualities for self-advancement and may also court the assistance of elders. It may hold public place.

Notable Nativity: Torquato Tasso, Italian poet.

MONDAY, MARCH 18.

Monday's astrological forecast is one of fluctuating fortune unless thrift and discretion be exercised. There may be splendid opportunities, possibly unforeseen and unexpected, and these should be shrewdly grasped and developed, although they involve radical change and some personal disturbance.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of excellent and unplanned openings which should be grasped despite radical change and personal discomforts.
Sign all papers cautiously, however. A child born on this day may be unusually talented and sensitive and may have many opportunities, which it should not separate by covert and "sharp" manipulation.

Notable Nativity: Thomas B.
Read, American artist and author.

VIGOROUS OLD AGE IS WITHIN REACH OF ALL

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

A short time ago I read this from the pen of William S. Sadler:
"Health is a matter of sowing and reaping; we cannot expect an increased health harvest without indulging in a preceding season of intelligent health sowing."

There can be no doubt that the foundation of adult health is laid in childhood. Many a case of chronic indigestion in middle life is the result of the bad eating habits acquired in youth.
This generation is a much healthier and stronger and more vigorous generation than any that has preceded it. The growing boys and girls of today are bigger and stronger than were their parents. It is not at all uncommon to find the child of a father and mother, who are both small in stature, to be big, husky, taller than the parents, and better developed in every particular.

The fact that we are more sturdy and possess a greater expectancy of life than our forefathers, is the result of health education. We are reaping the harvest of increased health because the precepts and seeds of health were sown by our parents. Our practices have been better than those of our forebears. We have better health and longer life because of the intelligent health sowing.

Boards of health, the public schools, the pulp and home, food alliances, women's clubs, associations of parents and teachers, the radio and the public press, are sowing the seeds of health. If health is really a matter of sowing and reaping we cannot fail to have an increased health harvest by reason of these health activities.

Everything that a man has will he give for his life. When each of us comes to realize that life and health depend upon the giving of attention to the things that make for health, then we will study the problem so that there may be intelligent health sowing.

There can be no doubt that knowledge is power. If we know the rules of hygiene, and then have sense enough to practice them, we will add years to our expectancy of life. We are going to reap what we sow. Common sense should teach us that we cannot have health and vigor if we indulge in overeating, wrong eating, late hours, lack of sunshine and fresh air, all of them favorable to the growth of the seeds of disease.

On the contrary, if we learn how to choose our foods and then select them according to rule. If we keep our bodies clean by the free use of water inside and out. If we purify the blood by going into the sunlight and breathing fresh air, if we eat simple foods and think clean thoughts, we are sowing the seeds of good health. The harvest of such sowing is long life, mental vigor and an unflinching influence for good.

The Modes For Spring
as seen by Home Folks
You Know

Spring-Holzwarth buyers constantly strive to bring the newest and best styles to Salem as soon, and often before they are shown in larger cities. It is with this thought in mind that they attend the various showings in New York, Cleveland, Chicago and other cities.

Mr. A. K. Switzer, Mr. Merle Miller and Mrs.
Love Spiker have just returned from the New York and Chicago markets and here is what they say—

About Coats and Suits

—By MR. A. K. SWITZER

"For daytime wear the two-piece suit with vestee is very smart.
Wool ensemble suits are also very extensively shown, both by manufacturers and New York stores. The skirts to these suits have a kick plait which makes them adaptable for wear with a sweater or blouse.
Silk ensembles of a dress and matching coat are shown in beige, black, navy and green.

Sport coats are unusually swaggar. They are being shown in Camel's Hair, Checks, Plaids, Tweeds and plain Kasha. Some have cuffs of fur, others fur collars and still others have cleverly stitched collars and belts.

Dress coats are shown in Cord Twills, Venice, Broadcloth and Kashmirlinda, a new pile fabric greatly resembling velvet. Detachable capes are again quite smart.
Furs are much used for spring, beige, mole, dyed and natural squirrel and broadtail are among the best. Colors particularly favored are beige, black, tan, navy, natural and gray."

New York's New Dresses

—By MRS. LOVE SPIKER

"For formal and semi-formal wear, New York is showing beautiful lace dresses in both one and two-piece styles. Chiffon combined with lace is also very good and will be worn for early summer.

"Print Novelties seem to have taken New York by storm.

"Evening dresses feature the uneven hem with rhinestone or lace trims.

"Afternoon frocks seem to be a trifle shorter than of past seasons. The colors for spring are much brighter, and the modernistic influence is shown in the striking combinations of these bright colors.

"All in all, spring dresses are prettier than ever and seem to be as gay and fresh as the season itself."

About Draperies

—By MR. MERLE MILLER

"Even as the Fabric and Ready-to-Wear section is ready with new materials for spring, so is our Drapery Department, ready for spring window dressing. You can come in any day now and expect to gather a parcel of smart new ideas on window hangings.

"Drapery fabrics are sufficiently new and different to give you a real treat, themselves.
They include a multitude of modernistic patterns in cretonnes and a host of antique dam-asks which are leading the drapery parade today along with beautiful mohairs."

"THINK OF THIS"

"There is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Acts 4:12.

A cold and hungry London waif was told by a city missionary to apply for shelter in one of the houses of refuge. He was told to ring the bell, and when asked who he was to say, "In His name." He did what he was told and received a cordial welcome. When he was given a good supper and a warm bed, he imagined he was in heaven.

Several days afterward he was injured in the street and at the hospital the attendants found the address of the mission in his pocket. They informed the Christian workers, who came to talk with the lad. He was tenderly nursed, but in a few days he closed his eyes in death.

Before he went, however, those about him heard him repeat, again and again, the words, "In His name," that's what lets you in."

Church of Our Saviour (Episcopal)

Sermon, Sunday, March 11, the third Sunday in Lent.

Celebration of the Holy Communion, 7:30; morning prayer and sermon, 11.

Sermon Thursday. Celebration of the Holy Communion, 10; evening prayer, 7:30. Rev. Roy E. DePriest of St. John's church, Cleveland, will be the special preacher.

We are early taught to distinguish between our three great adversaries, the devil, the flesh and the world, but it seldom happens in actual life that one of them assails us alone.

We are warned on this third Sunday in Lent against the temptation of the world, a foe as difficult to define as to deal with; neither a locality, nor a personality, nor a society but an influence proceeding from them which is hostile to God. Some one well compares it with the smoke of different chimneys, which in different degrees obscures and defiles the atmosphere of some great city.

The environment of the most sheltered life has its dangers, the "evil" from which Christ prayed that His friends might be kept.

So the key thought of the week is, "The subtle power of environment as a spiritual foe, and the danger of conventionalism in religion arising from it."

The world says its first law is self-preservation. Then obedience to convention, to maintain "good form" rather than righteousness. In our day good form may not be flagrant immorality, but it certainly is not "walking in love." The world's standard of enlightenment is nowadays a very high one. It has leaved from the church that the moral factor must accompany intellectual development in any enlightened man. But it is a long way yet from acknowledging that this must spring from and be founded in spirituality in the Christian sense.

So while we are in the world we must not defer to the world and its values and its conventions. We must be found to the fore, in the van, bearing the torch of moral enlightenment and the banner of love.

COURT NEWS

Simms' Divorce Case

In the divorce case filed recently in common pleas court by Jessie C. Simms against her husband, Frank C. Simms, there has been a hearing before Judge W. F. Lones on the application for temporary alimony.

The court in this case has allowed counsel fees, and in addition has ordered the defendant to pay the plaintiff $200 as temporary alimony on or before April 1, and in addition to pay the plaintiff $100 alimony forthwith and $100 each two weeks thereafter, during the pendency of the suit. The temporary restraining order in this case has been dissolved.

Party Defendants

Daniel M. Smith and P. L. Custer, sureties on an appeal bond in a case tried before former Justice of the Peace James G. Stevenson in Yellow Creek township, have been made party defendants in a new suit filed in common pleas court by Atty. P. Y. Mackall for C. F. Walters against Frank F. Moore.

When this case went to trial in common pleas court, judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $237.67 was rendered and the costs then amounting to $34.85. The suit in its original form was for the recovery of an account claimed to be due on a grocery bill, and when the defendant did not appear the court rendered default judgment for the plaintiff. Then the appeal was taken with Smith & Custer as sureties. The collection of the judgment and costs is now sought in the new action. The case is the first of the character that has been filed in common pleas for many months.

Case Dismissed

There has been a dismissal by the court in the case of Laura Crist against E. L. Rankin to recover $617.62 claimed owing the plaintiff by the defendant on a note. The dismissal was on the grounds of lack of prosecution.

Alimony Awarded

Following a hearing upon a motion for temporary alimony in the case of Floy May Cunningham against Everett Cunningham, the court has awarded $50 alimony as attorney fees to be paid within a few weeks, and in addition $5 per week for support during the pendency of the suit.

French Senate Puts Ban On Bill Which Would Draft Women

Paris, March 10.—French women will not have to fight in the next war. The senate has just voted "no" to the army reorganization bill which was approved by the Chamber of Deputies, providing for the requisition in time of war, of women.

One senator emphasized the fact that if France commandeered the services of women, any army invading France could do likewise. The minister of war did not insist. The item was struck from the bill. But if they can't shoulder a gun, other opportunities are now to be seen in other fields. Poets in the foreign office are to be open to them in limited numbers and this is expected to lead to many diplomatic appointments.

DECLARES UPHAM DESTROYED OLD PARTY RECORDS

Secretary Tells Senate Committee Upham Act—ed Under Law

Washington, March 10.—All financial records of the Republican National committee for campaigns up to 1923 were destroyed by the late Fred Upham, national treasurer, on the eve of the 1924 campaign, Irl G. Hipsey, his secretary, testified today at the senate inquiry into the Continental Trading company's $3,080,000 Liberty Bond "slush fund."

The records for 1923 and early 1924, Hipsey said, were destroyed in May, 1926, after Upham died. This revelation blocked efforts of the senate public lands committee to learn what became of a $60,000 Liberty Bond fund given Upham by Will H. Hays, who got the bonds from Harry P. Sinclair. Hipsey said he had never heard of the bonds until he read recent newspaper stories.

All our books for the campaign that closed in 1922 were destroyed in 1924," said Hipsey. "The convention was in June and the books were destroyed shortly before that."

"The records for 1920, 1918 and 1916 were destroyed at the same time. When Upham decided he wasn't going to be Republican treasurer any more, he destroyed all his books there was one exception—the card index system, he turned that over to his successor."

"Those records were destroyed for what purpose?"

"No purpose. Mr. Upham had acted upon the law that requires the books be held for 18 months after the campaign."

The records for 1923 and the pre-convention campaign of 1924 were destroyed in May, 1926 after Upham's death, Hipsey said.

Bass Singers Plead For Some New Songs

London, March 10.—British bass singers have joined in a deep and rumbling chorus of woe.

Their trouble is that they have no songs to sing. Nobody is writing bass songs. The men with the low, sonorous voices are singing the songs their fathers sang because there are no new ones.

They complain because Canon Lytton, looking for their like, says that "there are no big bass voices nowadays." "Something is happening," he says, "to make all our bass singers tend to the baritone voice."

But the British singers say that what is happening is that because there are no bass songs many singers who would otherwise be basses are having their voices trained up to baritone pitch. Hence the famine in basso profundo.

At present baritones are most plentiful, with tenors next and basses fewest of all.

RESCUE WORK

ton and three from Providence, to be ready to transfer the 150 passengers to railroad points when they are brought safely ashore in small boats or transferred by breeches buoy to another vessel.

Sunlight following the blizzard found the Robert E. Lee firmly stranded and in no immediate danger of breaking up.

Radio messages indicated that all aboard remained calm despite their plight and after an almost heatless and lightless night with giant waves roaring and pounding against the sides of the ship and with water six feet deep in the engine rooms.

Wedge on Sunken Reef
Wedged on a sunken reef, known as Mary Ann Rocks, one mile and a half off Manomet Point, the Robert E. Lee was pounded all night by a raging sea.

S O S calls brought the Coast Guard Cutter Tuscarora across Massachusetts Bay from her station at Cape Ann, the salvage ship Falcon from the grave of the sunken submarine S-4 of Provincetown.

The submarine tender Bushnell and the mine sweeper Mallard, also from Provincetown, and a 36-foot power boat from the Sagamore coast guard station manned by six brave coastguardsmen.

The latest radio message from Captain H. W. Robinson of the stranded ship was reassuring. It said:

"Passengers all comfortable, weather moderating. Will transfer after daylight, weather permitting. Using emergency gas engine for lighting purposes."

Anxiety Alayed
The message hummed through the aid and was relayed here, allaying somewhat the anxiety of several score of relatives of the 263 persons aboard. They had hurried here by motor cars. The automobiles were lined up on Manomet Hill overlooking the storm-swept bay near the northern entrance to Cape Cod canal.

The U. S. S. Bushnell and the Coast Guard Cutter Tuscarora, heavily ice-coated were the first rescue craft to reach the vicinity of the wrecked steamship. Both ships were in communication with the Robert E. Lee.

The imperiled passengers emerged from a night of anxiety. The Robert E. Lee, in swinging leeward from her course in the gale in an effort to reach the Cape Cod canal, took a hole beneath the waterline and began taking water fast. The graphic story of her peril was told in the pithy sentences of radiograms.

From the shore she could be seen but faintly through the driving snow.

The first message stressed the need of immediate assistance but stated: "No panic aboard."

Dead Japanese Held World's Easiest Job

Tokyo, March 10.—Major Tetsu Atsumi has just died after holding one of the softest jobs in the world for seven years. The major's job required exactly one second of his time each day. The job consisted of firing the noon gun inside the grounds of the imperial palace to tell Tokyo the sun had crossed the noon meridian.

Assistants attended to all the details; all the major had to do was touch off the cannon. He never had a vacation nor missed a shot in seven years, not even the day of the great earthquake of September 1, 1923, which occurred just two minutes before time to fire the gun.

1444 COWS OVER 40 POUND MARK

Cow Testing Association Records For January Are Tabulated

Of the 7,316 cows in milk, reported on by 28-cow-testing associations in Ohio during January, 1444 or 19.7 percent, produced 45 pounds or more of butterfat during the month, and 767 or 10.5 percent, produced more than 1,200 pounds of milk. The records have just been tabulated by the dairy department of the Ohio State university.

Among the associations reporting, the highest percentage of cows producing 40 pounds or more of butterfat was the Medina association, with 36.3 percent. Second place went to the Wayne County association with 34 percent and third place to the Southern Trumbull county association, with 32.1 percent.

In the whole milk column, the North Trumbull association with 28.1 percent of its cows producing 1,200 pounds or more of milk, was in first place. In second place was the Medina association with 23.9 percent, and in third place, Wayne County, with 21.1 percent.

Among the individual performance records on butterfat, the first place went to a registered Jersey owned by W. H. Miller of the Westerville association, which produced 111.4 pounds of fat during the month. Second place went to a registered Holstein owned by J. I. Shafer of the Medina association, which produced 105.9 pounds of butterfat during the month. Third place in the butterfat column was taken by a registered Holstein owned by D. P. Blackmore, of the Geauga-Lake-Portage association, which produced 96.1 pounds of butterfat.

In the whole-milk production column, the leader was a grade Holstein, owned by J. I. Shafer of the Medina association, which produced 3,100 pounds of milk. Second place was taken by a registered Holstein owned by Thomas & Snyder of the Licking County association, which produced 2,863 pounds of milk. Third place in this column was taken by another registered Holstein from the same herd which produced 2,862 pounds of milk.

Paul Hoskins, tester for the Columbiana County association, reported that in one of the herds under his charge, which the owner was not feeding heavily enough, he persuaded the owner to select one cow and give her the recommended ration. In one month this selected cow made enough extra profit above her feed cost to pay the tester's wages for the monthly test.

FAKERS FORGING MANUSCRIPTS OF FAMOUS AUTHORS

Efforts Being Made To Run Down Gang Of Famous Forgers

London, March 10.—Efforts are being made here to track down a gang engaged in the extensive production and sale of forgeries of the manuscripts of famous authors now dead.

Although Thomas Hardy, the novelist and poet, has been dead only a few weeks, the gang is hard at work faking for export to the United States manuscripts of his poems, short stories and letters.

One of the victims of the fraud is a young American collector whose name has not been revealed, who bought at a sale a bundle of manuscripts all of which have been proved to be spurious. In the bundle was what was declared to be the original manuscript of Hardy's poem on Keats' house at Hampstead.

Proved Forgeries

This, with other fakes, was taken to Messrs. Robert Riviere and Son, bookbinders, whose suspicions were aroused as to their authenticity. The head of the firm, Arthur Calkin, sent the package to T. J. Wise, the bibliographer and authority on manuscripts.

"The moment I saw the Hardy manuscript I knew it to be a forgery," Wise said. "Hardy's writing had been imitated, but it was an imitation which would not have deceived anyone familiar with Hardy's manuscripts. Mr. Calkin's suspicions were aroused because he happened to know that I possess the original manuscript of Hardy's poem on Keats' house. Hardy gave it to me, and the only copy of it is that which Hardy made especially to be kept in the Keats museum."

"The American's purchase was also submitted to Mrs. Thomas Hardy and Sydney Cockerell, Hardy's literary executor. Both pronounced it to be a fake."

Other Fakes

"With it there were brought to me for examination several other alleged manuscripts, all of which proved to be fakes. They included what were claimed to be a poem by Robert Louis Stevenson and some of Oscar Wilde's prose."

"There were also a drawing said to be done and signed by Thackeray, and the autograph of Thomas Lynch, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. Both were fakes. "Lynch's autograph is extremely rare. It is worth at least $2,500, yet the young American paid a great deal less than $500 for the lot. Had they been genuine, they would have been worth $7,500."

Permanent Easter Date May Be Set

London, March 10.—An international conference to consider fixing the date of Easter will probably be called by Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, sometime during the present year.

This is the result of the house of commons passing without a division the stabilization of Easter bill, which fixes Easter definitely on the first Sunday after the second Saturday in April.

Should the bill receive the third reading and pass through the house of lords, "the government will regard it as an intimation to proceed with certain inquiries," according to Sir Austen, and the "government would be asked to summon a conference of the great international nations."

At present Easter fluctuates from year to year, and it is urged that a fixed Easter will benefit all sections of the community.

McCARTHY

into a show to help produce it. Peter Jones is a young man from Ohio who has been left some money and goes to New York to go into the theatrical business.

Lehman & McClure get hold of him for a sucker and sell him 49 percent of their show for $20,000. The show is rather a poor one although they tell Jones differently and, throughout the show keeps impressing upon Mr. Lehman and Mr. McClure how rotten their show really is.

The second act is in Syracuse, N. Y., where "Her Lesson" is to be put on for its first performance. The first scene is the Butter and Egg Man's hotel room before the show and the second scene is in the same room after the show. In this act the Butter and Egg man has a quarrel with Lehman and buys out the other half of the show for $10,000. The assistant manager of the hotel then comes in and the Butter and Egg man turns salesman and sells him 49 percent for the show for $15,000.00.

The last act is back in the producer's office in New York city. "Her Lesson" has been brought to New York and has proved a great success.

Everything is going nicely until the attorney-at-law, Mr. Patterson comes in and claims that the show has been taken from a short story of his client's and that the client is entitled to 66-2-3 percent of the profits. At this juncture, Lehman & McClure come in and the Butter and Egg man turns salesman again and turns the show back to them for $100,000.00.

As the final curtain goes down the Butter and Egg man is selling 50 percent of a hotel in Ohio to Mr. Fritchie, the assistant manager.

The play is directed by Art's H. L. McCarthy, president of the Kiwanis club, who also takes the leading part. Rehearsals have been in progress for two weeks, and McCarthy believes the comedy will be a hit.

Janitor Says Isaac Newton Was Wrong

London, March 10.—William H. Pakes, a London janitor maintains that Sir Isaac Newton was all wrong and that his teachings on the law of gravity have misled the whole of the modern scientific world.

Parkes has devoted ten years of his life to the task of discovering the exact cause of gravitation, a subject upon which Newton said nothing.

"I have at last fashioned the cause," he says in a book, "Revelations in Astronomy and Gravitation," just published. "Bodies and particles in space are maintained by the control of attractive motion, instead of by the pulling force of attractive matter, as indicated in the Newtonian theory."

Sir Oliver Lodge and other eminent scientists have expressed interest in Parkes' theory.

ARTISTS SELECT VARIED THEMES

Liquor, Women and Death Favorite Themes In 1,300 Paintings

New York, March 10.—Liquor, women and death are favorite themes depicted in the 1,300 paintings hung on the walls of the Waldorf roof at the 12th annual exhibition of the society of independent artists which was opened to the public today.

It is a dizzy, fantastic display, ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous. "Anything and everything goes." There is no critical hury to reject and select. Any artist who rebuses six dollars may have two pictures shown. It is reminiscent of amateur night at a theater.

The eye is immediately arrested by a painting entitled "The Gin-Hic Kid." A pair of shapely feminine legs are cocked up on a table, upon which rests a large bottle labeled "gin" and an ash tray containing cigarette butts. A lit white hand holds a long-stemmed glass and a smoking cigarette. There is a suspicious-looking fluid in the glass. A $20-bill peeps from the young woman's stocking.

"Death pictures" assail the eye on all sides. One archaic canvas portrays a dead man hanging from a lamp post. Another pictures the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti. They are shown shuffling down a long, dark corridor with the figure of Christ hovering over them, a priest following, a prayer book in hand, and sisters kneeling in prayer in the foreground.

NEW HIGH RECORDS

New York, March 10.—Radio Corporation common stock jumped 6 1/2 points to 114 for a block of 25,000 shares at the opening of the market today. General Motors reached a new high record at 160, up 1/4, for 20,000 shares and United States Steel up 1/4 at 145 1/4.

Dupont advanced 1 1/2 points to 353; Westinghouse up 1 at 97; Baldwin up 2 at 270; Chrysler up 1/4 at 62 for 10,000 shares; American Can down 1/4 at 8 1/2. New York Central featured the rails, with a gain of 1/4 at 162 1/4.

Speculative interest at the week-end centered around a few of the motor, steel and specialty stocks which have been making stock market history since last Saturday morning. Radio Corporation took the play from General Motors at the beginning of trading today when a block of 25,000 shares of the stock was brought outright at 114, an advance of 6 1/2 points from Friday's close. General Motors rose only a point to 160 in the first period, but the turnover at 160 was unusually heavy.

Stock traders in all parts of the country have jumped to the conclusion that if General Motors executives were willing to pay $300,000, 600 in cash for 200,000 shares of their own stock at record high prices there must be important future developments of which the outside public is still unaware. This is Wall Street's explanation for the avalanche of buying orders for the stock from all parts of the country which combined with "inside" buying and pool activities, have pushed the price up 25 points in a little more than a week.

Wall Street estimates of new profits won by prominent traders in the stock this week range all the way from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000. It is known that William C. Durant, the former president of General Motors Corporation, has been bullish on the stock since it sold below 75 in 1924. Through stock dividends and split-ups each holder of 100 shares of stock at that time now has 300 shares, worth $48,000, a profit of $40,000 per 100 shares, or $400,000 per thousand shares.

Other operators and large winners in the stock, according to Wall Street reports, include Arthur W. Cutten of Chicago, the Fisher Brothers of Detroit, Graham Brothers, famous truck manufacturers and Clarence R. Bittling of Detroit. In the list of permanent investors in General Motors appear such prominent names as the Dupont family of Wilmington, the Morgan banking partners of New York, John J. Raskob, the financial genius of the Motors corporation and Alfred Sloan, the mechanical operating head.

Since reaching a peak price of 104 a few weeks ago, Radio Corporation has been under selling pressure, and declined nearly 20 points to 88. Last Saturday, while General Motors was widely soaring to record high prices, Radio was comparatively quiet, closing the week at 94. Opening yesterday at 100 for a block of 10,000 shares, the stock was one of the fast-steppers of Friday's spectacular movement, closing the day at 107 1/4. The stock opened today at 114 for a block of 25,000 shares, declined to 111 on profit taking and rushed up to 116 in heavy trading.

Albino prospects rather than past performance provide the chief grounds for the enormous speculative demand for the stock at this time. It is expected that official announcement will soon be made of the perfection of the television process of the corporation, by which picture flashes of current events will be broadcast to distant points. Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company stock rose brilliantly in recognition of the fact that it is an important stockholder of Radio Corporation.

United States Steel was in good demand around 146, but trading in the stock was restricted by the desire of the market to await the monthly forward tonnage report, due at noon. Wall Street looks for a 100,000 tons increase in unfilled orders of the big steel corporation in February.

Hudson Motors, Hupp Studebaker and Chrysler maintained their best price levels of the week but profit taking appeared in the cils, coppers and many of the specialties in the second hour, and the market developed an irregular tone.

Business at the week-end was spotty, according to the leading bank and economic reviews. Most parts of the country have been enjoying good weather, and the agricultural sections of the country have made satisfactory progress. The huge volume of available investment money is without doubt the most important factor in the upsurge of stock market of the past week.

GOSPEL OF PAIN

Editor The News:
The International Narcotic Education association has determined at least to the satisfaction of its members three fundamental facts relative to drug addiction:

First, that the cause is ignorance. Second, that the effect is misery. Third, that the cure is education. If the first dose of narcotics that a man takes leads to the drug habit which is to deprive its victim of health, character and mind is taken through ignorance, may we not well consider just what it is that this individual does not know and what it is he should have learned that might have prevented his taking it.

Remember that drug addiction is not confined to the uneducated, nor the social outcast. The habit knows neither class or condition. It is found in the hovel as well as in the palace; in business and profession, as well as among the indolent and crook.

The misconception of the significance of pain and the malicious attitude manifest towards its visitation is by no means patent to the illiterate or uneducated, in testimony of which fact we find the successful club man returning from the links, who by some indiscretion, has contracted a cold, and the society woman who has played bridge until a late hour the night before, and by loss of sleep has developed a headache, are ready victims of some coal-tar preparation or narcotic for the purpose of rendering them unconscious of the presence of this friendly visitor—pain, and to enable them to forget as soon as possible that they have sinned against health.

Both of these types would resent being classified as dope fiends, but they are alike in as much as they habitually use narcotics to relieve them of pain. Indiana boasts of good roads, and these roads have cost vast sums of money to build and maintain. It was ascertained that there were 70,000 automobiles in and out of the state each week, each of these cars carrying about 3 1/2 passengers, which means that 245,000 visitors were in and out of the state each week.

The question in mind is whether or not these visitors are helping in any way to pay for the building and maintenance of the roads, and if so and how.

It was then decided to check up on this element and learn who was profiting most by their visit. Was it the hotel for rooms and meals? No! Was it the grocer for provisions? No! Was it the garage for supplies and repairs? No! Do you wonder who gets the most of the money left in the state by the visitors and for what? Will you be surprised when I tell you it was the druggist and for aspirin, and at that the druggist is not the only beneficiary of the aspirin in the restaurants, confectioneries, grocery stores, pool rooms, barber shops with display cards announcing the fact that aspirin is sold there, and that it is good for pain from any cause?

May I insist here that without exception, drugs that are good for pain are harmful to humanity. And the business of this association is to acquaint the public with the fact that pain is our friend, and that any drug that may be self-administered to relieve pain is harmful and dangerous.

The greatest service this organization can possibly render is to acquaint humanity with the nature of pain; to teach them that pain is the messenger of danger and that until the danger is removed, the pain should be bravely and patiently endured; tell them that the way to avoid pain is to regard the simple laws of healthful living, giving due thought to the requirements of our bodies in the matter of food, sleep, fresh, pure air and exercise.

MRS. W. W. KYLE.

ECKSTEIN FUNERAL

A large number of friends and relatives assembled at the First Friends church Friday afternoon to pay their last respects to Mrs. R. C. Eckstein, who died early Wednesday morning.

The service was in charge of the pastor of the church, Rev. C. E. Haworth, and Rev. John Pennington, of Damascus, retired minister. Mrs. Margaret Chamberlain, of Damascus, sang two selections, accompanied by Mrs. Carl Hobson, of Damascus. Interment was in Grandview Burial park.

Relatives from out of town in attendance were Dr. and Mrs. Roland Schwartz and children, of Cleveland; Edward Eckstein, industry, Vida Eckstein, Rochester, Pa., and Mrs. Laura Eckstein of Pittsburgh. There were friends from Winona, Damascus and Beloit.

New York.—An 18-month-old baby sailed alone for Germany recently and there is one less mouth to feed in the family while her unemployed father looks for a job. Mr. and Mrs. August Latteier put their daughter, Felicitas, aboard the liner Dresden for a trip to Stuttgart, where she will stay with a grandmother while the parents attempt to recoup the family fortunes.

Altocna.—When Harry Brislin, arrested for panhandling, was searched an automobile license was found. He admitted he had a car and it was found parked in the business district. It was learned he traveled in the car from town to town, begging money on the street. Women were his heaviest contributors, he admitted.

CARD OF THANKS
We express our sincere appreciation to all relatives, friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown during the illness and death of our wife and sister, Mrs. Ora Eckstein. We thank those who sent flowers and who furnished automobiles at the funeral. Signed R. C. ECKSTEIN.

A Clever Reply to An Ill-Mannered Pay Envelope

If the contents of your Pay Envelope doesn't believe in making long calls, don't quite despair. After an extensive survey Boston Teachers' College announces that girls earning $22 a week can be well dressed and spend only $210 a year and answers the question of "How do they do it," by retorting, "Knowing how to buy."

There is no especial news in this to the young woman who has learned to shop the "Penney way." Long ago she knew that a new Spring coat need not be a tragedy, nor a new hat or a pair of evening slippers a matter of "hope deferred." Our clothing is not only of excellent quality, but our New York buyers select styles that are practical adaptations of the current mode.

WANTS COUNTY TO HELP PAVE WELLSVILLE ST.

Representatives of the business interests of Wellsville together with those representing the municipal government are expected to discuss with the county commissioners next Monday the proposed improvement of Buckeye Avenue, Wellsville, which is a part of I. C. H. No. 7 and a part of the Steubenville-East Liverpool highway, which is now being improved at the eastern end in Jefferson county.

While this street is paved, it is one of the roughest in Columbiana county. The Wellsville council is in favor of its being resurfaced or reconstructed. It has been proposed to improve the street westward to Wooster's corners near the Columbiana-Jefferson county line.

It is the plan of the Wellsville interests to seek county aid in the reconstruction of this street, also aid from the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company.

Coast-To-Coast Run In 50 Days His Aim

Los Angeles, March 10.—With a coast-to-coast run in 50 days already to his credit, Dr. John J. Seiler, "the flying Yank," was prepared to start off here today on a jaunt to New York over the same route as that taken by participants in the C. C. Pyle trans-continental marathon, now in progress.

Seiler, who ran from Atlantic City to Pasadena, Cal., in 56 days, hopes to make the run to Manhattan in 50 days. He is reported to have the backing of Herbert Lubin, motion picture executive and sportsman.

PROPHET ISRAEL FASTS DESPITE MARATHON RACE

"Lord's Entry" Observing His Sabbath, Falls Behind Caravan

With Los Angeles-New York Racers, Bagdad, Cal., March 10—"Prophet" Jonas Israel, who styles himself the "Lord's entry" in the C. C. Pyle coast-to-coast marathon, fell behind the caravan today as he observed his Sabbath at this oasis in the great American desert.

"Brother John," as Israel has named himself, hale, hearty and 52 years old, has added to his sack cloth raiment a pair of arctic for his ordinarily bare feet for protection against blistering sands.

"I have taken neither food nor drink since Wednesday night," Israel said this morning. "And I will continue my fast until night-fall Saturday. In spite of the hardships of the desert I am supported and given strength. I may fall behind the runners for a time, but will catch up with them again and again, and finally come into glory in New York."

Never Spurns a Gift
"Tourists tossed nine dollars to me from their cars as they passed me on Wednesday. On Thursday all I got from passing tourists was 90 cents. I ask no alms, but never spurn a gift."

"From sundown Friday to sundown Saturday I observe my Sabbath and will be off the trail. I will draw my robes about me and lie down under a clump of sage brush, hopeful and unafraid. Once I went without water for eight days in the desert as a penance. If I can guide a few misguided souls aright my journey will be worth while."

Israel confirmed reports he had been confined for varying periods in insane asylums in 17 states. "They always had to let me go," he added, "because I convinced my keepers that their minds were equally distorted as mine."

Israel is but one of a number of eccentric characters in the Pyle race. Nobody takes them seriously, most of them being added starters and it is no surprise when they gradually drop out of the running.

Mullins Club Lines Up Fistic Card For Next Friday Evening

TUG PHILLIPS, JIMMY SMITH IN MAIN BOUT

Pittsburgh and Detroit Battlers Will Clash Here In Public Bout of Eight Rounds; Two Six-Round And One Four-Round Scraps Fill Card

Tug Phillips, of Pittsburgh, who is claimed to be the best welter-weight in Pennsylvania, will meet Jimmy Smith, of Detroit, "the lad from the River Rouge," in the main bout of eight rounds as the feature of the boxing show which will be staged next Friday night in Memorial building gym by the Mullins Foremen's club.

This is a public show, and both general admission and reserved seat tickets will be sold. The latter will go on sale at Reich & Rugg's Monday.

The card, arranged by Buchanan and Karl, the club's matchmakers, both members of the club, consists of four bouts of 24 rounds. The curtain raiser will be a four-round scrap between Kid Elmer, of Salem, and Kid Leeper, of Hanoverton.

Elmer Has Visions
Elmer, a 138-pound boxer, works at Mullins and has visions of success in the fight racket. He will find a worthy match in Leeper, a lad with a punch from the wilds of Hanover township.

U. S. Carpenter, of Pittsburgh, and Sammy Joffman, of Detroit, weighing 122 pounds, are matched for the preliminary of six rounds. The semi-final will be a six round go at 135 pounds between Young Rudy, of Pittsburgh, and Frankie Claire, of Detroit.

The club, in arranging its own card, asked Buck Buchanan and Karl to pick the fighters. Karl went to Pittsburgh and secured Phillips, Rudy and Carpenter from the stable of Red Mason. Buchanan went to Detroit and picked Smith, Claire and Joffman. Smith and Claire are in Frank Selman's stable, while Joffman belongs to the River A. C.

Incentive For Winner
None of the boys in one stable have any connection with those of the others. As an incentive to make the boys put out their best, the contest aside for each bout will be divided 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser. Each bout will be a decision by two judges, who have not been named. The referee also has not been selected.

LIVERPOOL WINS OVER DAMASCUS

County Title Race Even; Deciding Game Monday At Salineville

The East Liverpool Elks evened the county league title series Friday night by taking the second game, 31 to 25, from the Damascus Quakers on East Liverpool High floor.

Each team has now won a game and the deciding game will be played on the Addison hall floor at Salineville Monday night. This neutral floor will give neither team an advantage.

Damascus got a poor start last night, trailing 20 to 10 at the half. Came, the Elks center, was in fine form and the Quakers could not hold him down.

The Damascus five had its best period in the third quarter, scoring 10 points and tossing a score into the Elks. The score was 24 to 20 at the close of the period. The Elks kept in the lead by good defensive play the final period.

Came and Grace, the latter the Quakers' ace, each got 11 points.

Damascus won the first game Wednesday night.

LOUGHRAN MAY MEET TUNNEY

New York, March 10.—The services of Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion, have been offered to Tex Rickard as an opponent to Gene Tunney next June in the event that the heavyweight eliminations do not produce an outstanding contender. Joe Smith, manager of Loughran, made the offer to Jess McMahon, Madison Square Garden match maker.

McMahon meanwhile obtained Loughran's consent to fight the winner of the light heavyweight battle between Leo Lomski and Joe Sakya on March 30. The title match probably will be staged at the Garden on May 4.

McLarnin Manager Declines Mullen's Offer For $50,000

New York, March 10.—Pop Foster, manager of Jimmy McLarnin, has definitely declined the $50,000 offer from Jim Mullen for McLarnin to fight Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion in Chicago. He wired the Chicago promoter his regrets after a conference with Tex Rickard.

Rickard convinced Foster that Mullen could not hire Soldier field, pay Mandell 50 per cent and guarantee McLarnin $50,000 without somebody taking a deficit. Eddie Kane, Mandell's manager, has until next Tuesday to accept the California lightweight's New York challenge and a fight in New York if he sticks to Mullen there will be no lightweight title fight here but McLarnin will be matched with Billy Wallace or possibly Ruby Goldstein.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Buffalo—Frankie Genaro, of New York, recognized by International Boxing association as world's flyweight champion, won decision over Frisco Grande, Filipino boxer (10).

Fred Vincent, Hamilton, Ont., outpointed Eddie Mischler Buffalo (6).

At Syracuse—Jack McVey, New York middleweight, won decision over Frankie Kearns, Utica (10).

Davey Abad, Panama featherweight, outpointed Tommy Ryan, Buffalo (10).

Jack Manley, Syracuse lightweight, won from Eddie (Kid) Wagner, Philadelphia (10).

At Los Angeles—Joe Lohman, Jewish heavyweight, and Tony Puente, Mexican, fought a draw (10).

At San Francisco—"Midget" Mike O'Dowd, Columbus, O., featherweight, won decision over Pancho Flores of Texas, (10).

HORNSBY LEADS TEAM FAST PACE SAYS SLATTERY

Braves New Manager says Rogers Is Hustling, So Others Step

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 10.—I wish to announce on the best of authority that today the Boston Braves obtained waivers on Damon and Pythias.

They were a worthy pair to have around and everybody had a good word for them. But baseball is a cold-blooded game and the fact of the matter is that the boys really aren't needed any more.

The Braves, it is intimated, intend to replace them with a couple of new men named Hornsby and Slattery.

Yes, it is the same Rogers Hornsby, who struck up such intimate, congenial friendships with Branch Rickey and Sam Breadon in St. Louis and with Charley Stoneham in New York, but that is something with which Jack Slattery, new Boston manager, concerns himself slightly. As far as he is concerned, Hornsby is the greatest man he ever handled, tactful, amenable, a great hustler who inspires every one with his urge to win and altogether an admirable young man.

Hornsby Is Hustling
"I am willing to lay a bet that Hornsby is hustling more than any other star in the game," Slattery said. "I couldn't ask for a better break than I got when he was traded to the Braves. Why, he hustles so much that the rest of the club can't help but follow suit."

"I don't ask what happened in New York or St. Louis. In fact, I don't care. Hornsby is the best man I ever handled. We like each other and will go the limit to prove it. I wouldn't trade him back to the Giants now for half of McGraw's ball club."

So, it appears, the stormy petrel no longer is on the wing or maybe he was a little humming bird all the time and nobody found it out until he met Jack Slattery. As for the latter, I gained the impression that he will hum with you, if you feel that way, or storm with you just as unconcernedly. He looks you right in the eye, this Slattery, and I don't think he cares a whoop whether you like him or not. It seemed, safer, so I decided to like him.

Chance to Finish Fourth
Frankly, the Braves would seem to be no worse than the best of the potential second division clubs and they have at least an outside chance of finishing fourth. Hornsby has done that to them, or most of it, for the club has undergone few changes otherwise.

It will have the same man at first base, Dick Burris; the same shortstop, Ferrell; the same third baseman, Andy High, and virtually the same pitchers. The outfielders, Eddie Brown, Lance Richbourg and Jack Smith, will be operating again, the only departure being expected in the case of Eddie Moore.

The Atlanta citizen will be removed from the infield altogether to share left field with Smith, provided he doesn't take the play away from the latter altogether, which he is likely to do. Moore came up to the Pirates as an outfielder and Slattery thinks somebody muffed tone when they didn't keep Edward there.

Training Camp Notes

New Orleans, March 10.—The Cleveland Indians open their exhibition season here today with the New Orleans Pelicans. Wesley Ferrell, 20-year-old rookie will be the starting pitcher for the Indians at the request of General Manager Billy Evans, who liked the youngster's work so well in the practice game Thursday. He asked to see more of him.

Augusta, Ga., March 10.—The New York Giants will take on the strong Newark International league club today in their first exhibition game of the season. The New York batting order will be as follows:

Welsh, O'Doul, Lindstrom, Terry, Jackson, Harper, Cohen, Hogan and Benton.

Rain held the Giants idle yesterday.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 10.—Pitcher Harry Johnson, who was to have started against the Boston Braves next Monday in the Yankee's first exhibition game, was a crestfallen rookie today.

The Yankee regulars walloped him for nine runs in one inning and beat the Yankings, 11 to 3, in their first practice game. Gehrig and Paschal each got two hits in one inning, while Babe Ruth, who always plays with the scrubs, got only one single during the afternoon.

Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the club, will arrive today with Waite Hoyt and will endeavor to sign the holdout pitcher.

Lazy Golf Players Needn't Stoop Over To Pick Up Balls

Denver, March 10.—A mechanical device has been invented by Nao Uyei of Denver that will pick up golf balls from the green without the tired business man who golfs for exercise having to bend his weary back to reach them.

It is a simple apparatus, composed of a long handle and several ribbon-steel springs fastened at the bottom. The lazy golf player will not have to exercise quite so strenuously now.

Price or Cost

The cost of your battery before you get through with it—or before it gets through with you—depends upon three things: (1) The price; (2) How long it lasts; (3) What you have to pay for repairs to keep it on the job.

The Exide Battery has always been recognized by experienced drivers as the most economical because of its long service and its freedom from repairs.

DAMASCUS HIGH OUT OF TOURNEY

Berea Winner, 37 to 18; Liverpool Wins Its Second Game

Goshen Township High lost out in its opening game in the Class B section of the Akron district tournament Friday to Berea High, 37 to 18.

East Liverpool High captured its second game in the New Concord tourney by beating New Philadelphia, 26 to 11. It is to meet Bellaire today. Bellaire won, 28 to 24, from Bridgeport last night.

The Blue, beaten by Salem for the county title, is considered as having an excellent chance to get to Columbus as one of the representatives of the Southeastern district.

Dover, from this district, won the state title last year. Dover is still in the running, after defeating Zanesville, 31 to 29.

Akron Class A results last night showed that Akron North, Akron West and Canton McKinley are still undefeated. North beat Cleveland Heights, 26 to 10; McKinley easily beat Elyria, 37 to 19; and West took over the big Lakewood team, 36 to 22.

In the Class B section at Akron, Hubbard defeated Louisville, 27 to 25; Wellington beat Garrettsville, 27 to 16.

Chicago Women Open Legislative Battle For Eight-Hour Day

Chicago, March 10.—Fiercely resentful of the alleged "frailty" of women, leading Chicago feminists have attacked attempts of the state legislature to enact an eight-hour industrial day for women in Illinois.

"We do not want our hours of labor restricted. Men are on a superior footing now, in industry, and this law would further curtail in their efforts toward success."

Little Holman O'Neil, state representative who sponsored the attempted legislation at the last three sessions of the general assembly, was equally as caustic in support of the innovation.

"The future mothers of the race need protection," she hurled at the opponents of the eight hour law.

"I am ready and willing to admit that women are inferior to men, so far as physical stamina is concerned. Nor do I think that women are any more able to work long hours now than they were a number of years ago."

KIWANIS SHOW: NOVELTY ACT ON NEW PROGRAMS

Next week will be a busy one along the Salem rials, what with the Kiwanis club's annual home talent show, "The Butter and Egg Man," a novelty act, "The Whirl of Mirth," and one of the present leading films, "Quality Street" heading well balanced programs.

The Kiwanis show will be at the Grand Wednesday and Thursday. Announcement regarding this show is made in another column. Described as a "scientific mystery," "The Whirl of Mirth," to play Friday and Saturday at the Grand, derives the whirl part of its name from the fact that each person in the audience is furnished colored glasses to watch the act.

Action on the stage is such that when watched through the glasses the actors appear to be performing immediately in front of each seat. There are several girls who stage a bathtub scene as one of the laughing hits of the act.

The feature picture these two nights is "The Red Raiders," in which Ken Maynard plays the part of an army officer in the pre-Civil war days when redskins were numerous and bold.

Harry Langdon, the dizzy-faced comedian, whose fame on the silver sheet now is as great as his fame on the stage used to be, plays the third man in a love situation in

"Three's A Crowd," a comedy booked for Monday and Tuesday at the Grand. Langdon has the part of a lonesome lad of the tenements who busts up a romance and has one of his own.

Monday night, when the weekly edition of Kelley's "Country Store" will be presented, a mohair suite is to be presented to a person in the audience by Sarbin's furniture store.

Marion Davies, playing the role made famous by Maude Adams years ago, comes to the State Monday and Tuesday in "Quality Street," the English provincial period play written by Sir James M. Barrie. Conrad Nagel will be seen as the young doctor who goes away to fight in the Napoleonic wars and then returns to claim his former sweetheart who has turned against him. The film is claimed to be one of the best of the year.

The traveling salesman comes into his own in "Smile, Brother, Smile," a laugh special with Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill, due Wednesday and Thursday. Jack has the smiling, loud-mouthed salesman's part, and Miss Mackaill that of a phone girl.

Karl Dane and George K. Arthur, who have risen to one of the best of the comedy teams in motion pictures, do that old vehicle of the stage, "Baby Mine," with the aid of lanky and funny Charlotte Greenwood, in the film booked for Friday and Saturday.

Dane has the part of the backward college boy in love with an old maid, Miss Greenwood, she of those awfully long legs. Arthur is the other college boy and Louise Lorraine is his high-stepping sweetie.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, March 10.—Negligees and pyjamas are by no means neglected by the smart couturiers this spring. They have taken to classic simplicity, all the while keeping step with the new trend toward femininity and fluffiness.

Pyjama-negligee combinations are made with satin pyjamas which have Turkish trousers and straight blouses with three-quarter length coats of georgette. Printed georgette coats in large designs are often seen.

Beer is making a charming set in pale yellow satin with Oxford bags over which are worn two jackets, one in chiffon and one in lace.

"I'LL TELL THE REVOLVING GLOBE A DOORMAN'S JOB IS NO CINCH—PEOPLE SEE ME STANDING OUT THERE LOOKING HANDSOME AND CAREFREE—ALL THEY SEE IS PRINCE CHARMING—NEVER THINKING THAT GLITTERING UNIFORM MAY HIDE AN ACHING HEART—"

"I CAN UNDERSTAND HOW A KING GETS TIRED OF LIVING UNDER THE GLARE OF THE PUBLIC SPOTLIGHT—NO PRIVACY—JUST A GOLD FISH SWIMMING AROUND WITH A THOUSAND EYES WATCHING EVERY TIME HE COMES UP FOR AIR—IF IT WERE NOT FOR LITTLE GOLIATH THEY COULD HANG THAT UNIFORM ON SOME OTHER DUMMY—"

"HERE GOES A HUMAN PEACOCK STEPPING OUT TO EARN A LITTLE CHICKEN FEED—"

Negligees to be worn at tea-time are cut on straight flowing lines with a normal length hemline and flowing drapes at the sides. A white satin model cut on Empire lines is very long and flowing, with a long surplus closing and deep wide sleeves of silver lace.

Molynieux uses chiffon, satin, lame and velvet for his pyjamas which are delightfully trimmed with embroidery and feathers. A distinctive note is the way the trousers are strapped beneath the instep and they often fit closely about the heel.

Worth uses exquisite peach tones to make the most feminine kind of negligees with floating sleeves almost ethereal. Several colors are often combined. Very often a negligee is of one color with a drapery of the hip of another tone. Or it may resemble Joseph's coat, being made of wide, successive bands of two or more blending colors or tones of the same color.

Predicts No More Ugly Women After Next Thirty Years

Chicago, March 10.—There will be no such thing as an ugly woman in 30 years.

American women are already 65 per cent beautiful.

These were the opinions expressed here by Mlle. M. Rubenstein before the 250 beauty experts attending an annual convention.

"If every woman now would start to observe beauty's formula," asserted Mlle. Rubenstein, "there would not be a really homely woman by 1958. Instead of following the example of their grandmothers and resigning themselves to fat stomachs, broad hips, sagging jowls, double chins, bad complexions and all other foes to charm, modern women are beginning to battle for beauty."

American women, she said, are beginning to pick their diet and exercise like they pick out their dresses.

New York.—The Rev. Antonio D'Angelo, Jesuit missionary in Brazil, who is visiting here, is trying to get a patent on a motor which he believes will generate by inter-atomic energy many times the power it receives originally from an electric battery.

THE HOME KITCHEN

—By Jeannette Young Norton—

Many a reading table is gay with seed catalogues and garden plans being made by commuters and modest city gardeners. The plans help in utilization of every spare inch of earth owned; the catalogue pictures hold out ideals to be achieved. We can always improve on "last year," and if we made notes as we should have, we shall have definite data to go by.

One rather new idea is to use some of the decorative flowers among the vegetables. For instance, a broad border of feathery carrots may have a center of zinnias. We never cut these gay flowers except for a "country bouquet," but they are gay and decorative. Again there is nothing more charming than to plant rows of poppies against a green hedge row. Their gorgeous coloring and daintiness is accentuated by the background. Clumps of dahlias planted at the end of the field will blossom when the corn is yellow, or is being stacked in many places, and they are very attractive. The blue corn flowers are lovely encircling a clump of pole-climbing limas and they blossom persistently.

There are certain things that must be started indoors to get going well in the garden when the weather permits. Tomato plants, cabbage plants and others, especially if the garden does not get full sunshine. Among the flowers to start indoors are the foliage plants, petunias, cannas from seed, and other things the catalogue tells you.

you will "germinate slowly in cold ground."

The herb bed has become quite a consideration in most gardens and has a place by itself. Low growing herbs like sage should be planted at the edge and the taller ones like sweet basil and sweet marjoram, at the back of the bed. For decorative reasons, we planted single bushes of three varieties of peppers in the herb bed last year and they were very effective.

The parsley should be planted with an eye to permanent staying as it is frequently left out until mid-winter, or all winter.

The Moslem religion numbers among its adherents at least one-seventh of the population of the earth.

AFTER THE ROUGHING-IN

When the roughing-in has been completed, the next in order will be the fixtures. And one of the biggest little things in a plumbing job is the quality of the brass goods used. They mean so much to the life of the job that it would not be putting it too strong to say that they are the Vital Spots of the fixtures used. We do not mean to minimize the importance of watching closely the quality of enamel ware. For well we know there is a difference. But the point we make is that the wear comes on the brass appliances used. And for the difference in the first cost. One can ill afford to use any kind of brass. But the very best. So choose this part of your plumbing job with the greatest care and be rewarded with longer life and satisfaction with your installation. In trying to give the best we can get, we have standardized as much as we can on MUELLER BRASS. For we have found that using it for many years that trouble is eliminated. To a large degree. We're glad to show this line to you.
